educate for eternity

About the Seminar:

One can rightly assert that a "teacher affects eternity".

Teacher is the most important factor determining what children learn. Teachers have the greatest influence on young women and men during their transition to adulthood and the quality of teaching significantly impact children's learning in school. Childhood Education has been recognized as the most vital aspect in the current world scenario. Thus, there is the growing demand for and recognition of quality educators or experts in the field of school education. Teacher training course should lead to the creation of world class teacher educators for the school segment. This National seminar is an earnest attempt to fine tune requirements in this area.

Each and every module of the seminar aims at providing the most effective tools, techniques and practices for the child's development in a school environment or at home. It shall enable a simplified understanding of Childhood, and tools to be implemented by teacher aspirants in a school classroom. Participants can interact, empower themselves and present their views too.

Objectives of the Seminar:

1. Subject knowledge.
2. Pedagogic skills.
